Figure: Undocumented immigrants across Texas vary in the type of dialysis care they receive, depending on the city where they live. Emergent dialysis is provided only when the patient is deemed critically ill on the basis of physical examination or laboratory tests. Scheduled dialysis is provided at regular intervals.

San Antonio
100 patients: 100% receive scheduled dialysis. Option exists for peritoneal dialysis.

Dallas
125 patients: 100% receive emergent dialysis.

Houston
250 patients: 60% receive emergent dialysis; 40%, scheduled dialysis.
